6:40 pm karensim: @rajean I like it and I love a tagline that reinforces brand and is a bit cheeky #solopr

6:44 pm SoloPR: Q4 is from @akenn: Prepping for a week's vacation...do I bring the laptop or not? #solopr

6:44 pm krisTK: A3: with few #solopr pros down here, biz-pros seem to think "PR consultants" are in-between jobs or freelance journalists.

6:45 pm karensim: RT @SoloPR: Q4 is from @akenn: Prepping for a weeks vacation...do I bring the laptop or not? #solopr

6:45 pm krisTK: A3: Would love to know if others describe themselves as consultants or owners of a firm? #solopr

6:46 pm SoloPR: RT @REDMEDIAPR: A4 take a smart phone so if you have to connect you can - but vacays are needed to recharge the creative juices #solopr

6:46 pm karensxim: @krisTK I use both depending on audience, for some consultant is meaningful, others hate it #solopr

6:46 pm LScribner: Q4 Depends. Is this a working vacation? As a #solopr pro, I don't build vacation time into my agreements. (a question for nxt wk?)

6:46 pm fransteps: A4: As luxurious as it sounds to totally disconnect, I had to take my laptop to Australia this Christmas! #solopr

6:46 pm 3hatscomm: @SoloPR A4: Depends. Are ducks in row, guest blogs ready, projects on schedule, emergency replacement set? #solopr

6:46 pm LoisMarketing: #solopr Q4 Your business – whether 100 or just you – should be able to run without you. Put plans in place long before the vacay!

6:46 pm SoloPR: RT @LoisMarketing: #solopr Q4 Step away from the computer and cell phone!

6:47 pm krisTK: @fransteps If someone mentions a job opening to me, I say I m looking for clients, not a job. #solopr

6:47 pm KellyeCrane: A4: I'm a firm believer in unplugging. If you must, you can check webmail on some random computer somewhere. #solopr

6:47 pm rockstarjen: Q4 i do take a laptop. even though i work little-to-none on vacation, having it for emergencies reduces my stress. #solopr

6:48 pm andreaschulle: missed #solopr chat today. Bummer!!! Can't wait to read transcript.

6:48 pm karensxim: Important point bc you want to be able to relax RT @rockstarjen: Q4 having it for emergencies reduces my stress. #solopr

6:48 pm krisTK: @fransteps I mention I've been a consultant for 7 years to over-ride the impression I'm between jobs. #solopr

6:49 pm smrus: A4. The minute U log into email on vacay is the minute yr vacay ends. Try 2 take a real break. Work will B there when U return. #solopr

6:49 pm AmazingPRMaven: A3. I mostly say owner of a firm (am in business w hubby), smtimes say consultant, but I'm in DC where consultants are common #solopr

6:49 pm SoloPR: Interesting. Everyone's different! RT @rockstarjen: Q4 having it for emergencies reduces my stress. #solopr

6:49 pm rajean: Q4. Smartphones are made for vacations. Laptops/netbooks leave nasty tan lines. #solopr Enjoy, relax, recharge ~

6:49 pm LoisMarketing: If you are on the computer and on the cell phone, you are NOT on vacation. The best break you give is the one your give yourself. #solopr

6:50 pm krisTK: A4: Take laptop. Restaurant reservations, tour times, etc. My online activities arent always for work. #solopr

6:50 pm juphilpott: It depends on the person and their businesses... if they feel comfortable enough to leave it home - go for it! #solopr

6:50 pm cidokogiPR: Q4: Depends on your level of vacay.. if its for a major event concerning your personal life.. no... #solopr

6:50 pm 3hatscomm: @rockstarjen Same. It's the "what if" worries. Rather have laptop w/ me, just in case. #solopr

6:50 pm krisTK: RT @rajean: Q4. Smartphones are made for vacations. Laptops/netbooks leave nasty tan lines. #solopr Enjoy, relax, recharge ~

6:50 pm MuslimNewMedia: lol! RT @rajean: Q4. Smartphones are made for vacations. Laptops/netbooks leave nasty tan lines. #solopr

6:50 pm janetfalk: @rockstarjen @soloPR Took husband's laptop last vacation mostly to check email and monitor world news. Notified clients I was abroad #soloPR

6:50 pm KellyeCrane: @KristK I sometimes say I have an independent PR consultancy - sorta straddles that line! #solopr

6:51 pm TShryerPR: RT @krisTK: RT @rajean: Q4. Smartphones are made for vacations. Laptops/netbooks leave nasty tan lines. #solopr #solopr

6:51 pm krisTK: A4: I've taken laptop and not used it. Better to have it and never turn it on than scramble. Smartphone is my lifesaver. #solopr

6:51 pm fransteps: @KristK Right on, sister! Clients, not jobs! #solopr

6:52 pm 3hatscomm: Good point. RT @krisTK: A4: Take laptop. Restaurant reservations, tour times, etc. My online activities arent always for work. #solopr

6:52 pm KellyeCrane: A4: I believe the best, pro-vacation invention ever made was the smartphone. Not much I need to do that can't be done on it. #solopr

6:52 pm rockstarjen: @SoloPR key is to not check it often. just the news in the AM and have it there if needed. typing long form on phone sucks. #solopr

6:52 pm TShryerPR: "Working" vacations are sometimes necessary when you're a sole practitioner. #solopr

6:52 pm LoisMarketing: @3HatsComm @krisTK Isn't that what you tip concierges for? Leave them at home :) #solopr

6:53 pm krisTK: @jgombita Senior-level tactical support to my clients means they can trust I know what I'm doing and produce quality results #solopr

6:53 pm juphilpott: RT @rockstarjen: key is to not check it often. just the news in the AM and have it there if needed. typing long form on phone sucks. #solopr

6:53 pm KellyeCrane: @rockstarjen I actually try to take a "news fast" while on vacation, too (recommended by Dr. Weil). Catchup when back. #solopr

6:53 pm AmazingPRMaven: A3. Many #solopr indies here use the "virtual firm" concept, idea you expand the team as needed for the client need

6:53 pm LoisMarketing: RT @SkipBarberNatl: @LoisMarketing What is this "break" you speak of? ;) >> Great Debate: Do you take laptop/smartphone on vacation? #solopr

6:54 pm rockstarjen: @KellyeCrane good idea. i've tried that, but just find i can relax knowing there isn't a big news item that day #solopr

6:54 pm krisTK: A4: Why was I late to today's chat? Brought RV home from winter hunting camp and had to consolidate pantry. #solopr

6:54 pm karensxim: @KellyeCrane @rockstarjen I do too, I could care less what's happening when I'm on vacation! #solopr

6:54 pm SoloPR: True-better than not having one at all. RT @TShryerPR: "Working" vacations are sometimes necessary when you're a sole practitioner. #solopr

6:55 pm LoisMarketing: Goes back to first question in today's #soloPR – about having subs you can count on. Have them in place so that you can have a vacation!

6:56 pm 3hatscomm: @SoloPR @TShryerPR I call it a "workcation" better than nothing. ;-) #solopr

6:56 pm krisTK: A4: Isn't every day a vacation when you're the boss? At least, that's what someone else told me. #solopr

6:56 pm SoloPR: Our time is winding down for today (yes, already). Please keep chatting (and sharing your doggie pics) on the hashtag all week! #solopr

6:56 pm KellyeCrane: @rockstarjen @karensxim 'zactly. #solopr

6:56 pm karensxim: A4: Some workcations are okay but you also need real time away for yourself and family #solopr

6:58 pm MuslimNewMedia: geeky question for next week-- best smartphone platform or apps for PR? @KellyeCrane @SoloPR #solopr

6:59 pm rockstarjen: @karensim @rajean @KristK @KellyeCrane no that i'm a mommy, this might be more important and needed. =8) #solopr
